Amy Carmichael was an Irish missionary to India. She is known for opening a safe house called Dohnavur Fellowship after rescuing children from being trafficked in the Hindu temples. She served in India for fifty-five years without a furlough, and in the last twenty years of her life, she remained bedridden and wrote several books and poems about her deep love for Christ.

Amy Carmichael: Mother to India - Missions College

Carmichael often said that her Ministry of rescuing temple children started with a girl named Preena. Having become a temple servant against her wishes, Preena managed to escape. Amy Carmichael provided her shelter and withstood the threats of those who insisted that the girl be returned either to the temple directly to continue her sexual assignments, or to her family for more indirect return to the temple.

Amy Carmichael - Wikipedia

In 1901, to the dismay of the Hindu priests, Carmichael started rescuing children from temple prostitution. The priests were furious at Amy. They pressed charges against Carmichael, which were not dismissed until 1914. Not only were the priests upset because of Carmichael's ministry, but even the missionary community condemned Carmichael's work.

Amy Carmichael - Missionary to India

Carmichael left Japan due to health reasons, eventually returning to England. She soon accepted a position with the Church of England's Zenana Missionary Society, serving in India. From 1895 to 1925, her work with orphans in Tinnevely (now Tirunelveli) was supported by the Church of England.

Amy Carmichael (1867-1951) served in India for over 50 years and is well-known for her work rescuing children from temple prostitution as well as her inspirational missionary writings. Few writers challenge and move me to action the way Amy Carmichael does.

Amy Carmichael Books - An Inspiring Life

Thirteen years earlier, in 1901, Amy sheltered her first temple runaway. Temple children were young girls dedicated to the gods and forced into prostitution to earn money for the priests. Over the years, Amy had rescued many children, often at the cost of extreme exhaustion and personal danger. One of her recent rescues was five-year-old Kohila.
